States has grown to enormous proportions during the last ten years. A very considerable proportion of this growth is due to the extreme duties levied upon foreign spirits, the consumption of which has thereby been, to a great extent, supermeded by native whisky. Half Aliveit is a sad thing to pass brough life only half alive. Yet there are bousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of the specific disease; they suffer no positive sain, but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensons pleasure to beir more robust and energetic fellow beings. In nine cases out of ten this state of hashinde and torpor arises from a morbid stometh. Indigestion destroys the energy of both sind and body. When the waste of mature is not supplied by a due and rogdiar assimilation of the food, every organ is starved, very function interrupted. Schofield's Patent Cotton Press!

Titles PRESS must commend their to the cotton planters of the Southern States or durability, simplicity of construction, and ease with which it can be operated by 1th hand, here, vater or seem power, the change from one to the other being effected in a fo infinites. A great advantage this Press possesses is that occupies for hand power only space of fourleen feet square, and may be placed and operated in a gin-kouse, thus a voiding the necessity of taking cotton out of the house to be packed. It can be used hand it may be placed and operated in a gin-kouse, thus a voiding the necessity of taking cotton out of the house to be packed. It can be used hand as with the owether; the Press being in the house, rainy days are no obstacle to packing, as is the case with wooden screws. Another advantage is, when you get Schofield's Press, you have a Press for all time and one not it lable to decay or break, as is the case with the old wooden screws and most other iron screws and presses. This is evident from the fact that the screw is iron, either wrought or east, and the trames are of wrough from and no part of the Press liable to decay touches the ground. The frames may be made of wood, at the option of the planter.

Planters may purchase either the screw and nut alone and put the frame and box of wood to it themselves, or may purchase the Press complete, with screw, nut, fron frames and box, making the most complete Press in ms. Presses complete, as inst. named, are in more general use, and give great satisfaction to all parties using them, as will be seen from letters in my possession, a few of which may be found eisewhere in this circular, and could furnish thousands.

Having the most extensive Iron Works in the city, and the greatest variety of patterns of all kinds, I am able to furnish parties with any kind of machinery or casting, at short notice.
